1. Introduction

These guidelines are directed towards members of a community who wish to form a group, in the form of a Residents' Association, that will come together to address local issues, respond to local community needs, source funding / grants and work together to enhance their estate or local areas.

This handbook will support new and existing Residents' Associations to organise and manage their activities. It will explain the key roles in a Residents' Association; provide templates for managing meetings and give details of local development agencies operating across the County.

2. What is a Residents' Association?

Resident Associations are organisations formed by groups of local people from a specific community who come together to promote and enhance their local area and act as a voice for that community.

The Association will help address the issues / concerns of the area, such as local environmental and maintenance issues (grass cutting, clean-ups etc), access to recreation facilities, car parking, traffic hazards; and assist in identifying solutions. It can undertake community projects, for example, summer projects; apply for grants, organise social events, represent interest in the local area and influence decision makers. It can also be an opportunity to meet your neighbours and gain new skills.

A Residents' Association can represent households who are purchasing, own or rent their homes in Local Authority or Private Estates. South Dublin County Council encourages and supports residents to work together and represent the views of all residents to make their estate/ community a better place to live.

3. The Role of South Dublin County Council Community Development Team

- Advising on funding opportunities to achieve the actions of the work plan.
- Providing information on Council Departments and plans
- Advising on how to promote the work of the Residents' Association.
- Encourage and create links to existing similar Residents' Associations.

The Community Development Team can also arrange training for Residents' Association on topics such as:

We also work closely with our colleagues in Housing, Parks, Public Realm, Libraries and Arts and ensure the appropriate supports can be identified and directed to Residents' Association from these and other Council Departments.

4. Setting up a Residents' Association

Getting people involved

There are many reasons why people do not want to get involved in their local community. One big factor can be that residents do not feel they are being listened to and that giving of their time and energy can in their opinion be a waste of time. On the other hand, in an estate that has no apparent problems people may not feel that there is a need to have a Residents Association.

The best way to get residents involved is to do something positive in your estate and invite people to help. When people see the benefits of positive actions, they are more inclined to want to get involved.

When setting up a Residents' Association there are a few points you should keep in mind:

- Set realistic targets.
- Try to get as many people involved in making decisions and taking on responsibilities.
- Keep everyone informed about what is happening.
- Develop an understanding with volunteers that they will need to commit some of their time to attend regular meetings.

As a first step, those residents interested in setting up the association will meet. The purpose of this meeting is to identify a date and venue that will maximise the possible attendance at an Open Meeting (see below) and should not alienate anyone or give cause for complaint. The key tasks at this first step are to:

- 1 Appoint people to Chair, Record Attendance and take Minutes of the Open Meeting until a Committee is elected.
- 2 Agree a Basic Agenda for the Open Meeting.
- 3 Source a suitable venue which is wheelchair accessible.
- 4 Notify all residents, through notifications/flyers/social media/word of mouth.

The Community Development Team will assist you in planning for your Open Meeting.

Open Meeting

It is important that the Open Meeting is planned and structured to achieve the desired outcome - the establishment of a Residents' Association.

- Ensure venue is open on time and people are welcomed on arrival.
- Place attendance list sheet (name and house number) near entry point to facilitate signing.
- Distribute Agendas throughout the room.
- Introduce the Main Speaker / Speakers and be clear about what the group wants to achieve and how a Residents' Association would benefit the community.

- Request agreement to formally proceed and elect a Committee (Committee Officers can be elected at this meeting or at the first Committee Meeting). Any group of three or more people can set up a Residents' Association.
- AOB (Any Other Business): At this stage items not on the agenda can be discussed.
- Arrange date, time, and venue for next meeting with newly elected Committee Members.

It is important that after the Open Meeting the decision to establish a Residents' Association is communicated to the estate or local area. Effective communication will be vital to the successful running of your association and engagement with your neighbours. It is also strongly recommended your committee be representative of the estate or wider area and achieves a gender balance.

5. Running an effective Residents' Association

5.1 Roles and Responsibilities

In this section the Roles and Responsibilities for members of a Residents' Association will be explained.

Committee Member

Being a committee member is about much more than simply attending meetings, although that is a committee member's first task. You should see your involvement in the committee as an active not passive role. Although you need to attend meetings, you also need to be aware of what decisions your committee is authorised to make, and to work with other members of the committee to reach a consensus to enable business to move through the committee structure. Committee members are central to the running of a Residents' Association. The role of a committee member is to:

- Attend meetings.
- Help organise events.
- Contribute to discussions.
- Give feedback on issues facing the estate.
- Ensure that everything discussed in the group remains confidential.
- Make decisions based on what is best for the local community.

- Support the committee and accept majority votes.
- Work together as a team.
- Help distribute newsletters / flyers to the local area when required.
- Get feedback from your neighbours around issues being discussed at the Residents' Association meeting.

Chairperson

The role of the Chairperson is to chair meetings and lead and represent the committee.

Key responsibilities of the Chairperson include:

- Being fully aware of all the activities carried out by the group.
- Ensuring that tasks that have been delegated to other members of the committee are being carried out in a timely manner.
- Taking responsibility for facilitating the group to work well together towards achieving the committee's aims and giving help and support where needed, ensuring all are allowed / encouraged to speak.
- Acting as spokesperson and representing the committee to outside bodies, networks, and so on.
- Helping the committee to maintain its focus on achieving the agreed aims, objectives and work plans.
- Making emergency decisions between meetings where necessary in accordance with procedures agreed by the committee.

- Planning and running of meeting (or delegation as necessary).
- Ensuring that all necessary information is made available to committee members.
- Ensuring that adequate records of meetings are kept.
- Ensuring that plans / actions agreed upon during the meeting are implemented.

The Vice Chairperson

The Vice Chairperson stands in for the Chairperson when necessary and provides administrative support when required.

Secretary

The Secretary's main role is to ensure that everyone is kept informed.

The key responsibilities of a Secretary include:

- Taking minutes of meetings.
- Writing letters officially on behalf of the group.
- Receiving correspondence on behalf of the group and keep the group up to date on correspondence.
- Keep a list of the current members on the committee.
- It may be possible to elect a separate minute taker to take some of the pressure off the Secretary, but this is at the discretion of the group.

The key responsibilities of the minute taker include:

- Organisation of meetings for example, time and place and so on.
- Drafting the agenda with the Chairperson.
- Taking of minutes.
- Writing up and circulation of minutes and next meeting agenda.

Treasurer

The Treasurer is the person that has the day to day responsibility for the Residents' Association's funds. They are responsible for keeping accurate books of account. However, it is important to note that the committee has the overall responsibility for deciding how the funds are used and ensuring that they are managed properly.

The key responsibilities of the Treasurer include:

- Establishing a financial policy and procedures document with approval of the committee.
- Opening the bank account.
- Monitoring income and expenditure of the group.
- Ensuring that all receipts are lodged into the group's bank account.
- Ensuring that there are invoices and receipts for all payments made.
- Keeping the committee informed of the financial situation of the organisation.
- Present a financial report at each meeting.

- Presenting the accounts for the organisation's AGM.
- Representing the organisation in funding applications.

5.2 Constitution

The Constitution is one of the most important documents that your group will ever develop. A constitution is a set of rules / procedures to assist the committee in the day-to-day running of committee matters. It will help to resolve issues and clarify the rules. It is a list of procedures concerning decision making. It outlines the aims and objectives of the group. The committee agrees / amends the constitution and it is ratified at the AGM if supported by three-quarters of the members / residents' present. A sample constitution is in Appendix C of this Handbook.

5.3 Insurance

South Dublin County Council strongly advises Residents' Associations to have adequate Public Liability insurance to indemnify and protect against potential claims.

5.4 Meetings

There are three types of meeting your Residents' Association can hold:

Ordinary Meetings:

This will be the most frequent meeting type to deal with ongoing matters of interest to the Residents' Association. Typical agenda items may include for example a report on the Annual Work Plan, Financial Report and signing off on Funding Applications.

Annual General Meeting (AGM):

An Annual General Meeting (AGM) is open to all members/residents and is organised by the committee on a yearly basis. At the AGM the committee will report on its yearly work, present a statement of accounts and facilitate the election of a new committee for the year ahead.

Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM):

An Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM) is open to all members/residents and will be called if the committee deems it necessary to discuss a matter too important to wait until the next AGM. The Agenda for an EGM must list the resolutions (formal proposals to be discussed) in advance of the EGM.

Organising a Meeting:

The procedures outlined below are a guide to how a committee meeting could be organised.

Please note the organisation of the Residents'

Association's Annual General Meeting (AGM) or an Extraordinary General Meeting (EGM) should follow the guidelines contained with the Residents' Association's Constitution (a sample Constitution is included on Appendix c).

Committee Meeting Procedures:

The agenda should be distributed to committee members a week prior to the meeting and made available at commencement of the meeting. New items may be added to the agenda at the beginning of the meeting under AOB. Each agenda item should be dealt with in sequence and concluded before moving on to the next item.

Where an agenda item requires a decision to be taken and if the committee cannot agree on a decision, a show of hands will determine the outcome. The Chairperson, in the case of an equal number of votes, will have a second or casting vote.

The Constitution will set out the numbers of committee members, known as a quorum to be present for a meeting to take place and decisions to be made. It is important to follow good meeting etiquette by ensuring meetings start and end on time and the views of those in attendance are respected.

The Chairperson manages the meeting and is responsible for ensuring that all topics on the agenda are dealt with and all opinions are heard. Questions are directed through the Chairperson.

5.5 Communications

To have an effective and inclusive Residents' Association communication between the Residents' Association and the wider estate or area is critically important. It is recommended the committee identify one person to oversee communications. This may take the form of:

- Residents' Association social media accounts to distribute information and receive feedback from residents.
- Regular leaflet drops.
- Public notices (if agreed, within the estate or area).
- Maintaining an email address set up by the Residents' Association.

The Community Development Team can assist in deciding the most effective means of communication for your Residents' Association.

5.6 Public Participation Network

South Dublin County Council strongly advises Resident Associations to become members of the South Dublin Public Participation Network (PPN). For further information on the PPN and how to register go to www.SDCPPN.ie. The Community Development Team can also assist you with this process.

Remember – to access South Dublin County Council grants , your Residents' Association must be a member of the PPN.

5.7 Opening a Back Account

It is strongly recommended your Residents' Association opens and maintains a bank account, with a bank of your choice, which will advise you of what documentation you need. This will assist with managing your finances and is a transparent way to track income and expenditure.

For South Dublin County Council grants schemes, applicants are required to have a bank account as grants awarded are paid by Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) only.
